

It gives me immense pleasure to extend my warm greetings to all the graduating Diplomates and Fellows on the occasion of the 23rd Convocation of the National Board of Examinations in Medical Sciences.

As the Chairman of an NBEMS-accredited tertiary care hospital, I have witnessed first-hand dedication, discipline, and commitment required to complete postgraduate medical training in NBEMS Trainees. The conferment of Diploma, DNB, DrNB, and FNB qualifications reflects your years of hard work, perseverance, and pursuit of excellence in patient care and academics.

This Convocation marks an important milestone in your professional journey. As you step forward into greater responsibilities, you will not only serve as clinicians but also as compassionate caregivers, educators, researchers, and future leaders of the healthcare system.

The nation looks upon young medical professionals like you with great hope and confidence. NBEMS has made a remarkable contribution towards expanding quality postgraduate medical education and training opportunities across the country. Through its strong network of accredited hospitals and institutions, it has helped build a competent and skilled healthcare workforce committed to serving the nation.

I am a strong supporter of use of AI in healthcare delivery and I compliment NBEMS for starting a training program in AI in healthcare. I urge all of you to abreast yourself with AI tools for effective clinical practice.

I encourage all of you to uphold the highest standards of medical ethics and professionalism throughout your careers. Continue to remain committed to lifelong learning, academic excellence, and adoption of new technologies and innovations in healthcare. Above all, always remember that empathy, humanity, and respect for patients remain the true foundation of the medical profession.

I congratulate all the graduating candidates, gold medalists, and awardees on their outstanding achievement. I also convey my appreciation to the faculty members, trainers, and NBEMS for their tireless efforts in nurturing the next generation of healthcare professionals. I am confident that you will make meaningful contributions to society and bring pride to your institutions, your profession, and the nation.

My best wishes to all of you for a successful, fulfilling, and impactful future.
