National Board of Examinations

Question Paper Name :   DNB Anatomy Paper3

Is this Group for Examiner? :   No

Enable Mark as Answered Mark for Review and Clear Response :   Yes

Question Number : 1 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Anatomical basis of Frey's syndrome. [5]

b) Anatomical basis of recurrent dislocation of shoulder joint. [5]

Question Number : 2 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

Describe the clinical anatomy of the Porto-caval anastomoses. Enumerate the various sites of Porto-caval anastomoses. Discuss the anatomical basis of Porto Systemic shunts. [4+3+3]

Question Number : 3 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Anatomical basis of hoarseness of voice post Thyroidectomy. [5]

b) Carpal tunnel syndrome. [5]

Question Number : 4 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Describe the clinical anatomy of the lesser sac of peritoneum. Discuss the boundaries, recesses and aditus to lesser sac. [6]

b) Describe the anatomical basis of clinical conditions associated with the lesser sac. Add a note on Pseudo Pancreatic cyst. [4]

Question Number : 5 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Anatomical basis of wrist drop. [5]

b) Anatomical basis of femoral hernia. [5]

Question Number : 6 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Anatomical basis of heart block. [5]

b) Clinical anatomy of the knee joint. [5]

Question Number : 7 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Lymphatic drainage of the right lung. [5]

b) Avascular necrosis of femur. [5]

Question Number : 8 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Surface anatomy of Murphy's point and clinical significance of Murphy's sign. [5]

b) Skin tension (Langer's) lines and their relevance in surgery. [5]

Question Number : 9 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Clinical anatomy of Calot's triangle. [5]

b) Clinical anatomy and significance of Triangle of Koch. [5]

Question Number : 10 Question Type : SUBJECTIVE

a) Anatomical basis of prolapse of pelvic viscera. [5]

b) Anatomical basis of extravasation of urine following urethral rupture. [5]