

National Board of Examinations

DNB Emergency Medicine Paper2

Question Number : 6

A 30-year-old female is brought with thermal burns following deliberate self-harm:

- a) Classify thermal burns. [4]
- b) Discuss the ED management of various categories of thermal burns. [6]

Question Number : 7

- a) Flail chest. [3]
- b) Significant clinical features in facial trauma. [5]
- c) LeFort fractures. [2]

Question Number : 8

- a) Abnormal uterine bleeding in a 30-year-old, non-pregnant female. [3]
- b) Spontaneous abortion. [4]
- c) Hyperemesis gravidarum. [3]

Question Number : 9

A 26-week pregnant female with no previous antenatal follow up was detected to have a blood pressure of 160/98 mmHg:

- a) Describe differential diagnosis of elevated blood pressure in this patient. [6]
- b) Describe investigations and treatment plan in this patient. [2+2]

Question Number : 10

- a) Globe rupture. [2]
- b) Periorbital and orbital cellulitis. [4]
- c) Ocular ultrasonography. [4]